MORE HOMES 'WILL BRING US BENEFITS'

A MAJOR new housing development could soon be built on Harlow's doorstep – if plans to bulldoze the vacant Merck, Sharp & Dohme research and development centre are approved.

The American pharmaceuticals giant has submitted an outline planning application to East Herts District Council seeking permission to transform its sprawling Terlings Park site in Gilston into a new residential estate.

The firm has been trying to sell off the site for business use ever since the research facility closed almost five years ago, but a lack of demand has now prompted the company to change tack.

If the application – which is

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

likely to be considered by EHDC's planning committee on June 22 – is approved, up to 270 homes could be built on the 29-acre Brownfield site, along with new shops, a recreation area and community facilities.

New access roads could be added to the existing entrance on Eastwick Road, while new footpaths and cycleways linking the development with Harlow Town Station – via Burnt Mill Lane to the south and Gilston village to the north – are also detailed in the proposals.

The application even suggests part of the site could be opened up for use as public parkland, with green spaces and woodland featuring prominently in the plans.

Chris Morris, executive director of facilities management at MSD, told the Star: "The planning application makes a positive contribution to meeting local housing requirements while retaining as much of the existing high quality and mature landscaping as possible for the benefit of the local community."

"Proposals for the new development also include linking the existing community of Gilston with the proposed new community – this includes allowing potential pedestrian and cycle routes through the site to link it

'TAKE CARE': parents and children at the Prentice Place playground, where several youngsters have suffered injuries, such as broken bones, over the past few weeks. (photo: Vikki Lince 737724)

Parents warn of playing 'danger'

FURIOUS parents have slammed the "dangerous" design of a new Harlow playground following a spate of accidents involving their children.

According to parents whose youngsters use the Prentice Place play area in Potter Street, children have sustained injuries in recent weeks, including broken arms and a split eye.

The parents believe the playground, which opened in December as part of a £354,000 project to replace ageing facilities at Carters Mead, has not been properly designed for use by younger children.

Julie Ward, of Park Avenue, whose three-year-old son Mitchell broke his arm at the playground, issued a warning to other parents before more young children are seriously hurt.

"We are amazed that there are no safety signs advising of height or age restrictions – it almost seems like it's not quite finished," she told the Star.

"In just a matter of weeks two children from our group have broken their arms, while another one badly split his eye open and needed stitches.

"When one mum called the council about it, they told her that our children shouldn't have been using the playground because they were too young.

"When she asked about signs advising this, they said there hadn't been enough money left in the budget – it's ridiculous."

By VICKY LANE
vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk

Potter Street resident Rebecca Gargano, whose four-year-old daughter Lily broke her arm last week, added: "It's a lovely park, but most of its apparatus is aimed towards older children, even though the majority of the kids that go to the park are of a younger age."

When plans for the new playground were originally approved in 2009, the council anticipated the facilities would include "a mix of fun and colourful equipment for young children".

The authority this week claimed the play area equipment met all industry safety standards.

Councillor Tony Hall, chairman of the council's environment policy working group, told the Star: "Obviously it is unfortunate that there have been several incidents involving injuries and we wish the youngsters involved a speedy recovery.

"However, we do need to point out that it is up to the discretion of individual parents at the playground as to what equipment they think is suitable for their children to play on supervised.

"Signs suggesting age ranges for children are purely for guidance and would not override a parent or guardian's responsibility for their children."

Harlow Council
Working together for Harlow

The only way to win a BAFTA. . .

HIT TV programme The Only Way Is Essex scooped the Audience Prize at this week's BAFTA Awards – and Harlow Council hopes the show's meteoric success can help boost tourism in the town.

As the county's reputation for big hair and fake tan endures, thanks to the blinged-up lifestyles of TOWIE's characters such as Gemma (below), the authority has reminded fans there is much more to see and do in Essex than the reality TV series may suggest.

Councillor Joel Charles, chairman of the council's community and citizenship policy working group, said: "It is a fun programme but I hope it prompts people to come and see the real Essex.

He added: "I hope the show's success brings more people to Essex and Harlow, where they can discover our world class sculpture collection, visit the state-of-the-art leisure centre, explore the beautiful Stort Valley, visit the artists at Parndon Mill Gallery and end the day at the renowned Harlow Playhouse."

Sue's walk will help to train a guide dog

By VICKY LANE
vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A DETERMINED Harlow woman who has already raised £91,000 for guide dogs in memory of her husband is preparing to top up her total with her seventh sponsored walk.

When Sue Ratcliffe's husband Gary (42) was killed almost seven years ago after being knocked off his bike, she decided to continue fundraising for the cause he was passionate about.

Shortly before the accident, dog lover Gary had raised £2,000 with his Masonic lodge to co-sponsor a guide dog. Since then, Sue (44) along with family and friends has hosted regular fundraising events.

"When we first started we were aiming to raise £5,000 as that is the cost of supporting a guide dog pup's training for the first year of its life," said Sue, of Sheering Road, Old Harlow. "However, after suggesting donations at Gary's funeral, we had already reached £5,000 so we decided to just keep going to see how much we could raise." For the latest event, 18 people will be walking almost 20 miles from Old

PUPPY LOVE: Sue with some of the dogs that she has sponsored. Right, Sue husband's Gary, who died in 2004

Harlow to Chingford in London in fancy dress, with costumes ranging from Ali G to Sue's special – a padded fat stripper suit!

"We want it to be fun as that is what Gary was all about," explained Sue. "He loved life and would have loved this; it is a reflection of the kind of person he was."

With the money raised to date, the group have already sponsored 16 guide dog pups in his memory.

"Every time we get a new pup I feel a little bit of Gary goes with it," said Sue. "We always name them after something that Gary would have liked. "But more than that we are also helping blind people to have some independence in their life which I know Gary would have wanted."

She added: "I am really proud of how well we've all done so far and just hope that with everyone's continued and amazing support we can carry on into the hundreds of thousands."

The sponsored walk is taking place this Saturday. To sponsor the team, visit www.justgiving.com/sueratcliffe or pop along to Harlow town centre on the day when Sue's friends will be walking around with buckets to collect loose change.

Find out how you can become a volunteer

PEOPLE in Harlow wanting to contribute their services to help the local community are being encouraged to find out more about the opportunities available to them as part of National Volunteers Week.

During the national campaign which starts next Wednesday, Volunteer Centre Harlow is holding a drop-in session for people of all ages to discover how they can put some of their spare time to good use.

Organiser Debbie Nash said:

"Volunteering is a great way for someone to use their free time beneficially in a way that makes them feel good about themselves.

"It is also a good way to gain extra skills, make new friends, make a difference in the community and boost up CVs, particularly for those currently out of work.

"We would encourage anyone – young or old – to pop along to the drop-in session and see what we can do for them."

The session is taking place on Wednesday (June 1) at Harlow Central Library from 10am-2pm. For more information, call Della on (01279) 308310 or email dellanash@volunteercentreharlow.org.uk.

Match to net funds for homeless shelter

A SHELTER for the homeless is kicking-off a new fundraising drive with a charity football match.

Self-funded group the Helping Hands Club has organised the match to help finance their work providing homeless people with a place to rest, socialise and seek advice.

Organiser Vicky Cooledge explained: "It's the third time we've had a charity football match and they always prove to be very successful.

"Entry is free although donations are appreciated, and as well as the match there will be food stands, a raffle, bar and face-painting.

"We'd like to raise as much money as possible for the group while also helping to raise awareness about the good work we do."

The match takes place on Saturday (May 28) at The Link in Parsloe Road, Harlow, with kick off at noon. For more information, call Vicky on 07795 066873.

Amanda's cake bake raises a big slice of charity cash

VICTORIA sponges, chocolate brownies and millionaire shortbread were on the menu at a Harlow mum's home when she held a 'big cake bake' to raise funds for cystic fibrosis research.

Amanda Warrilow's seven-year-old daughter Jenna suffers from the condition so she organised the event to support the work of the Cystic Fibrosis Trust.

"CF is one of the most common life-threatening hereditary diseases in the UK, although not much is commonly known about it," said Amanda, of Doulton Close, Harlow

"My daughter was diagnosed when she was almost four and fortunately is one of the 'lucky' ones who has been responding really well to medication since then."

Jenna, a pupil at Henry Moore School, takes around 25 tablets, 10 vitamin pills and three nebulisers a day. She also needs two sessions of physiotherapy a week to loosen any mucus.

"Jenna takes it all in her stride and copes brilliantly," said Amanda. "She was very keen to get involved with some fundraising and really enjoyed the big cake bake."

Around 100 people attended the event, which also included a raffle, games and a cake decorating competition for the youngsters. It raised £580 for the trust.

Amanda added: "I was really touched by the amount of support we received and thrilled to raise so much money for this important cause."

Meeting JLS is ray of sunshine for brave little Ellie

A BRAVE Harlow youngster battling a serious illness has had her dream come true after meeting her idols - pop group JLS. Ten-year-old Ellie Derby-Pragnell, of Halling Hill, who suffers from spinal muscular atrophy, a small hole in her heart and very fragile bones, got to meet - and sing with - the X

Factor finalists during an afternoon in London organised by children's charity Rays of Sunshine. The Henry Moore pupil was treated to an action-packed few days in the city by the charity, which specialises in making wishes of children with serious conditions come true. According to mum, Kim, Ellie - who loves the chart-topping boy band so much she even had their music playing during her most recent operation - was overjoyed at meeting her heroes. "It was fantastic - a dream come true for Ellie," Kim told the Star. "She was just so excited - she's still on a high now!"

quietly copes with everything that life throws at her, she just goes for it, so it's nice for her to get something back. "The whole event was superbly organised by Rays of Sunshine and it was a really special moment that we will never forget."

"Ellie very proudly and very and Gilston more effectively to the bottom of Burnt Mill Lane, which in turn leads to Harlow Town Station."

Harlow Council has been consulted by EHDC on the proposals, and a spokesman for the authority this week told the Star it had no objections to the plans.

"The council does not wish to raise any objections to the proposed development as it does not appear to prejudice potential options for the delivery of future growth in the Harlow area," he said.

The application has been welcomed by Harlow MP Rob Halfon, who told the Star the proposed new development could have "huge benefits" for Harlow.

"Although the site is not technically part of Harlow, it could well be in the near future following boundary changes, and in any case it's so close to the town it can only help to boost Harlow's economy," he said.

"The site's been empty for some years now so I welcome the prospect of it providing some much-needed new homes in the local area."

He added: "I would much rather see vacant Brownfield sites like Terlings Park redeveloped than watch the town's green spaces being built on."

Schools stick to academy plans

THE governing bodies of three Harlow secondary schools are pushing ahead with plans to seek academy status.

Following open discussions with parents, staff and other stakeholders, governors at Burnt Mill, Mark Hall and Stewards School have confirmed they will proceed with the controversial proposals.

If successful, the status will mean the schools will break away from local education authority control, with the option of arranging additional financial input from an outside sponsor. The Star understands that Passmores - the first of the three schools to announce its plans - has now reached the final stages of the process.

A spokesman for the governing

By VICKY LANE
vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk bodies this week said that all schools remained fully committed to working together in the best interests of their students.

But David Forman, secretary of political pressure group Harlow Against the Cuts, said the schools had not properly consulted on the plans.

He told the Star: "I think they are powering through, even though a lot of parents and even governors still don't really understand what becoming an academy will mean in the long-term future."

"We don't believe in any way that academies improve the standards of education - quite the opposite."

"I don't think it will even profit the school as they don't realise that they will have to provide all the things that Essex County Council did - from insurance to PAT tests - it will be expensive."

"The only people who gain from academies are the heads and deputy heads who will see a bigger pay packet. It is disgusting and ultimately all about money."

He added: "We challenge the heads of those schools to debate publicly about the pros and cons, with parents given the final vote."

"If the parents reject the idea they shouldn't go ahead with them. If they are in favour, then that is a democratically made decision and we will say no more."

Director is back on board to guide PAH trust

A PRINCESS Alexandra Hospital Trust director has been re-appointed to the board following the expiry of her previous contract.

The Appointments Commission has granted Janet Dalrymple a new two-year contract at the trust as a non-executive director with an interest in patient safety and quality.

A qualified nurse who has held a number of senior NHS positions, Ms Dalrymple has also worked in the public sector with the Youth Justice Board for England and was previously director for strategic development in Cambridgeshire.

PAH chairman, Gerald Coteman, said: "Her experience and knowledge of the organisation are invaluable as we move forward and develop as a trust."

Volunteers collecting names of war heroes

SIR, I was pleased to read your story last week on the restoration of the Oddfellows Terrace Memorial. All memorials deteriorate with time so it is vital that everything possible is done to preserve the memories of the people recorded on them.

Your readers may be interested to know that volunteers from the Essex Society for Family History (ESFH) have, for many years, been recording the inscriptions on memorials across the county, including war memorials, gravestones and other plaques. The recordings are published in volumes lodged at the Essex Record Office and locally, at the Museum of Harlow.

To date, we have already recorded almost 180,000 names, including those on all the war memorials in Park Hill. We are currently working on the Churchyard at St Mary's in Churchgate Street. Full lists of those locations in our records may be found at www.esfh.org.uk.

Do we still need local authorities?

SIR, I am happy that services will be cut in my district in the knowledge that savings are being made. All that matters to me is the huge monthly bill I pay for council tax.

All local authorities across the land are overwhelmed with residents wanting more from their council when they aren't entitled to it. Let's put them all out of their misery and have only a few skeleton services serving the homeless and severely disabled or those people in

Get involved and give back

SIR, As a community Harlow has always been very vocal about standing up for itself. But now more than ever we all must look at what we are giving back to the town we live and work in.

Harlow's voluntary and faith-based groups are strong but they are constantly on the hunt for new talent who are willing to give something back. Equally, local councillors need to do more ourselves and talk to people all year round, not just when the starting gun is fired for the next election campaign.

It is important to strengthen participation from councillors and residents in voluntary groups who do so much for people.

Harlow Conservatives are passionate supporters of the Big Society, something Harlow has championed long before the term was picked up by the Prime Minister and used in order to encourage ordinary people to stand up and get involved with their local community.

Taking time to get involved in a local community project is a valuable life experience and an opportunity to meet like-minded people willing to get stuck in. One person giving up their free time to participate in a community project is a powerful statement that often encourages more to do the same. We will support and encourage residents willing to give something back. That's why the council has introduced neighbourhood forums across the town – so people can meet organisations doing positive work and join projects to make a real difference.

We are sure Harlow will respond so that civic leaders and residents join together in a concerted cause to give something back.

We are all at times guilty of working too hard, failing to balance work and life. But just spending an hour or two a week with a charity or faith group can make all the difference to your street, your town and your country.

Hold your head up, don't listen to jibes

SIR, I would like to comment on the letter from the lady who was subjected to cruel jibes regarding her appearance (Letters, May 19). I too have had this problem and I feel it is so ignorant of people to judge someone in this way.

Sadly, some people have medical problems and are on many various drugs with side effects, some being weight issues. I would like to say to this woman, don't curl up and cry. Hold your head up and soldier on as you are a better person than they ever will be. Just be the person you want to be.

Listen to the people and reject homes bid

SIR, I have yet to meet any resident who is in favour of this massive 1,200 proposed housing development in Harlow. Small units are necessary for our own housing lists. But unless more employment is provided the people in need will not be able to afford the rents. People who can will commute out of this area and make the roads more congested than now. I request that our elected members vote against this proposal and support the people who vote for them.

To lose Harlow's green areas would be unforgivable.

Horses on leashes need space to run

SIR, In response to last week's letter about horses on Latton Common, I have long been concerned about the welfare of horses that have been placed on land in Harlow.

These horses are leashed with no more than 10ft of rope. The freedom to run is an important part of a horse's welfare and just the sight of the unleashed horses running happily the full length of the field adjacent to Third Avenue near the town centre most days proves this.

Compare this with the leashed horses dotted around the town. They are left on their own without the company of other horses and over time they look like they've lost the will to live.

The council may be following mortal physical danger.

Perhaps let's abolish local authorities altogether and have only national services. A national police service, national social services, national education services, and so on, for reasons of economy of scale. Why do local authorities continue to exist when they so persistently fail to provide even the most important services? Just look at those killed under their watch – Victoria Climbié, Peter Barker (Baby P) and others.

Teach your children to cross road safely

SIR, May I use your letters page to appeal to motorists who insist on racing down Paringdon Road during the period when children are crossing to and from Milwards Primary School, to think twice about their speed. It is not the fault of the children or parents that Essex County Council mistakenly removed the traffic calming scheme in April 2010. I can understand motorists are reluctant to stop to let children safely cross the road, but until the council restores a road narrowing scheme, as was promised in July 2010, a bit of common sense would not go amiss.

At the same time I would like to remind parents to teach their children to cross the road safely, for this is a life skill. Dashing across the road between parked cars is dangerous and confuses the motorists. There is a designated crossing point outside the school with railings on both sides of the road which I urge parents to use for everyone's benefit.

Changes at top to boost bottom line

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsexnews.co.uk

HARLOW Council has streamlined its senior management team in a move that will save the cash-strapped authority more than £100,000 a year.

Strategic officer and chief financial officer Sunil Modaley was this week made redundant after a four-year stint at the Civic Centre.

Sources told the Star that Mr Modaley had not been at work for several months. The council confirmed he had spent time off sick and then on annual leave, but declined to comment on whether his absence was linked to a decision to terminate his employment.

In a statement issued through the authority earlier this week, Mr Modaley said he had "enjoyed" his time at the council.

"I am immensely proud of having had the opportunity to make a real contribution to Harlow," he said.

His departure means the authority's most senior management team now consists of just two people – chief executive Malcolm Morley and chief operating officer Graham Branchett.

In another significant move, the role of assistant chief executive – currently held by Cath Shaw – is also being altered to place a new emphasis on leading renewal and encouraging business investment in Harlow.

Mr Morley said the changes would give taxpayers "value for money".

"The public rightfully expect value for money from the public sector, and we are concentrating our hard-pressed budgets on front line services," he said.

"In the context of these challenges and the evolving role of the council I have carried out a review of the senior management structure and decided, after consultation with the leader of the council, to make a number of changes.

He added: "The council now has one of the leanest management structures in the country, but one that I believe is well set up to deliver on the council's corporate priorities.

"I would like to thank Sunil for the contribution he made to the on-going evolution and success of the council. I wish him the best for the future."

Partnership cash to keep residents in the black

PROJECTS that help to keep Harlow residents out of financial dire straits could share in a slice of a £30 million Big Lottery Fund.

As part of the group's Improving Financial Confidence programme, the fund is encouraging partnerships, led by local voluntary organisations, to apply for grants of up to £1 million for three to five-year support schemes.

To be eligible, a partnership must include a major housing association and Harlow Council, and should reflect the initiative's aims of helping vulnerable people get a better grip on their finances.

The Big Lottery Fund's

East of England regional head, Sara Betsworth, said: "The current period of economic stress has highlighted the divide between those who have access to a range of financial products, services and good quality advice, and those who are financially excluded.

"With this programme, we aim to help people living in social housing accommodation in the Harlow area to overcome these issues by giving them skills and confidence to choose, access and use financial services suitable to their needs."

For more details, go to www.biglotteryfund.org.uk

The closing date is Friday, September 16.

Little penguins make big splash for hospice

YOUNGSTERS from a Harlow swim club made a splash for charity after raising a whopping £1,675 for a local hospice.

Harlow Penguins Swimming Club – now based at the Leisurezone sports complex – raised the money for St Clare's Hospice at a sponsored swimming event last year.

Press officer for the club, Clare Linton-Baker, said: "We are really pleased with the success of the sponsored swim.

"All the children got involved and swam as far as they could to maximise their sponsors.

"It was by far one of the most successful fundraising events for the club in recent years."

Fundraising volunteer for St Clare's, Tony Shattock, who accepted the cheque on behalf of the hospice, added: "We're delighted that our friends at Harlow Penguins Swimming Club held such a fantastic fundraising event for St Clare and would like to take this opportunity to say a big thank you to everyone involved in this great event.

"Without such support from clubs such as Harlow penguins we'd not be able to continue providing our services."

Report highlights 'underclass' fears

THOUSANDS of Harlow youngsters believe they will achieve "few" or "none" of their goals in life, a new report by a leading youth charity reveals.

The study, carried out by the Prince's Trust and the Royal Bank of Scotland, showed that those from deprived backgrounds – which equates to more than one in five young people in Harlow – were significantly less likely to believe they would enjoy success in later life.

Regional director for The Prince's Trust in the East of England, Graham Ball, said the aspiration gap between rich and poor youngsters was creating a "youth underclass".

"We simply cannot ignore this inequality," he said. "Our research suggests that all young people tend to start life with similarly high aspirations. However, those from poorer homes are significantly more likely to lose confidence in their own abilities as they approach adulthood."

Harlow MP Rob Halfon said apprenticeships were one of the best ways for youngsters to escape a life of poverty.

"This is not a problem that has happened overnight," he told the Star. "One of the reasons I go on about apprenticeships is because I think they are good for young people. They help to motivate them, give them opportunities they wouldn't otherwise get and teach skills they wouldn't have otherwise learnt.

He added: "That is what will help young people escape poverty – not hand-outs."

year as it is a fantastic charity. We hope to raise as much as possible for them.

"Throughout the year we plan to hold many more fundraising events and will also be taking the time to explain to the children all about Winston's Wish and the good work they do."

STEWARDS Three years of hard work building, planting, weeding and watering have been celebrated by staff and pupils at the Parnall Road school with the grand opening of their new school garden.

The new outdoor area, part of a three-year Creative Partnerships Project which brings workers into schools to make significant changes, has been designed as a space to be used as an outside learning environment.

To celebrate the garden's official launch, Year 8 pupils performed a recital from Shakespeare's The Tempest, while a market food stall was set up for pupils to demonstrate their knowledge of medicinal herbs and the food chain.

Assistant headteacher Mark Scholtes said: "The day was a fantastic success and highlighted the vision and creativity of the students who have been central to every stage of the gardens development.

"As a school we are looking forward to the many educational and social opportunities that the garden will present in the future."

HARLOW FIELDS Pupils got to test their strength and stamina on new gym equipment which recently arrived at the Tendring Road school.

The exercise machines, purchased after youngsters on the school council put forward the idea, will be used as part of PE lessons and during break times. Deputy head Sue Burnside said: "The new equipment has been hugely popular with the children and is part of a larger redevelopment of sports equipment that we are currently investing in for our pupils. "The machines were something that the kids themselves said they wanted so it's great to have been able to provide them.

"For a lot of our pupils who have learning difficulties it is very hard for them to get gym membership or to afford it, so it's really good that they can now use such equipment at the school."

Artists open studio doors to creative minds

ART-lovers were challenged to find their creative side when local artists opened up their town centre studios for a day.

Members of the

Gatehouse Arts Gallery in West Gate invited inquisitive visitors into their workspaces to learn about how a studio is run and see practising artists in action.

Programme co-ordinator, Amanda Westbury, said: "It went really well and was nice to see old faces, as well as new, taking an interest in our work.

"It is a community gallery that regularly conducts projects in Harlow so it is great to receive so much support.

She added: "Ultimately it is about showing people that they all have a creative side. Our aim is to make everyone in Harlow find out what that is."

The gallery is currently hosting its Carve Up exhibition, a display of carved soap, breeze block and wood created by members of the community with Gatehouse Art artists.

Free lectures about carving are also taking place on Tuesday lunchtimes. For more information, email gatehouse@mail.com.

All peers were doing it – Lord

THE former leader of Essex County Council, on trial over claims he fiddled his expenses, has told a court he believed he was entitled to the money because he was "doing the work of four frontbenchers".

Cross-examined at Chelmsford Crown Court on Tuesday, Lord Hanningfield was asked why he had claimed £27,000 to pay an assistant whose salary was in fact just £12,000.

The Tory peer, who denies six charges of false accounting, said members of the House of Commons had been able to claim £130,000 a year for staffing costs but there was no such allowance for those in the Lords, adding that he claimed extra in some expenses categories to mitigate for losses in others.

He told the court: "I was doing the job of four frontbenchers. On transport, for example, I was doing far more than you would in the House of Commons."

Asked if he made claims for journeys and accommodation in London on dates when he was in Essex because he felt the system was unfair, he answered: "I did it because all the other peers were doing it. I do know other peers who made similar claims but I will not name them."

He produced a biscuit tin which he claimed was full of receipts for meals and other expenses, mostly dating to 2003/4, which he could have claimed but did not.

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

"If you keep in mind that I have had a 40 year career, it adds up to tens of thousands of pounds," he said. "I kept them because I thought one day I might get round to claiming them."

He added: "I do not lead an extravagant lifestyle. Most of my clothes are from Marks & Spencer. I enjoy the occasional glass of wine but that's about it.

"I have no savings, no stocks and shares, nothing like that."

The former Lords opposition frontbencher, who is being tried under his real name of Paul White, is alleged to have fraudulently claimed Parliamentary expenses for hotels in London between March 2006 and April 2009 when he did not actually stay overnight.

On Monday, he told the court he was "horrified" to find himself being prosecuted. He said he spent just "a minute a month" filling out the forms, claiming he "quite honestly assumed" he could claim the maximum amount after learning that this was what 85 per cent of peers did.

He told the court he saw the money as a "living out of London allowance rather than overnight subsistence.

Prosecution and defence speeches were due to be delivered yesterday afternoon and the jury is expected to retire today (Thursday) to consider its verdict.

Colourful way to repay society

GRAFFITI-DAUBED walls near a Harlow paddling pool have been given a bright new look by a team of offenders on a community payback scheme.

Supervised teams of five spent three days cleaning the walls of the council-owned building on Abercrombie Way and tidying up the area surrounding the Staple Tye pool.

The offenders, all aged over 18, cleaned away graffiti, repainted doors, picked up litter and gave benches and litter bins a new coat of paint.

Councillor Joel Charles, chairman of the community and citizenship policy working group, said: "I think most people would agree this is a very productive way for offenders to pay for their crime, and it means a popular pool is once again ready for the summer."

"Graffiti is an anti-social and selfish act, but we are determined not to let this kind of behaviour blight our town."

Signs point the way to town's past

A STREET which has been home to pottery traders for 2,000 years, a bench where Cold War secrets were sold to the Soviets and Britain's first high-rise residential building – all are Harlow landmarks which will soon be officially recognised with the installation of new visitor signs.

The 15 'monolith' signs will go up around the town in a few weeks and each will carry an image and information about the history of the area – showing visitors that Harlow is so much more than just a New Town.

Some of the town's historic gems to be recognised include Potter Street, home to the pottery trade since Roman times, Nettlewellbury, a parish that can trace its origins back to 1060, and Mulberry Green, a coaching inn stop on the 19th century London to Norwich coach route.

The signs will also commemorate some of the town's more recent claims to fame, including two benches at the corners of Hamstel and Hodings Roads used as a meeting place for an RAF officer turned Soviet spy and his Russian KGB handler.

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

The Lawn, regarded as the first residential tower block in Britain, will get its own sign, while The Stow, one of the country's first neighbourhood shopping centres, and The High will also be celebrated.

Councillor Russell Perrin, chairman of the Regeneration and Enterprise Policy Working Group, said: "Harlow is obviously best known for its status as a New Town, but there is a wealth of historical detail that visitors, and indeed some residents, might not know."

"This network of signs has been carefully chosen to mark a different facet of the town's past and they range in their significance, from modern social history to Roman times."

"We hope people really enjoy them and that they throw a new light on our town."

Funding for the project – a collaboration between Harlow Council, Harlow Renaissance and Harlow Civic Society – has come from the Government through its Growth Area Funding scheme.

Story behind Harlow's hills

By VICKY LANE
vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk

ANYONE who took part in Harlow's Race for Life last Sunday will have been hit by the painful realisation that there are quite a number of hills in Harlow!

And understandably most people at the time will have been cursing Mother Nature for the mountainous torment inflicted on local athletes. But any complaints should, in fact, be directed elsewhere because there is an individual responsible for Harlow's hills – a landscape artist by the name of Dame Sylvia Crowe.

Local history officer David Devine explained: "Crowe was appointed as consultant to Harlow New Town in 1947 where she remained as landscape advisor for 26 years.

"It was her decision to use the large amount of excavated material generated during the town's construction process to form larger mounds and hills, so technically she is the one responsible for causing Harlow runners some difficulty."

Dame Sylvia, alongside other

SYLVIA CROWE: This picture was taken 1957 when she became president of the Landscape Institute distinguished experts such as Harlow's master planner Sir Frederick Gibberd and social development officer Len White, began her work in Harlow with a complete landscape assessment of the town.

"Harlow was one of the few early new towns to be built entirely on green fields," said David. "Roads were planned in open landscape and open space flowed through the town.

"Some existing lanes, too narrow for motor traffic, were designed to form a network of footpaths or cycle tracks and most of the existing streams and watercourses were not channelled but used in a park setting to make the fullest use of natural features."

Working alongside head of the landscape section John St Bodfán Gruffydd until 1957, Dame Sylvia was involved in the detailed landscape design of the majority of Harlow's residential areas and also designed play spaces, open recreation areas and the settings for industrial buildings.

Ending her role as Harlow's landscape advisor in 1973, she lived in Sussex to the ripe old age of 96. By the time she passed away in 1997 she had written a series of books about landscape issues which are now considered classics by those in the field.

CAN YOU HELP? Johnson Matthey

DO you remember working for speciality chemicals and precious metal company Johnson Matthey back in the 1980s?

Ex-Primrose Field resident Alex James (81), who sent in this picture of the company's foundry workers from August 1982, can recall his time there before the company was sold off around 20 years ago.

"I worked in the office," he said. "I managed to save this picture of the foundry workers when the site was being closed and we were told to collect anything we didn't want to be dumped. "Foundry work was a dirty, mucky job. They had to do all the metal casting and dealt with the raw materials. I was much happier in the office, working out the accounts!"

After the site's closure Alex moved to Buxton in Derbyshire where he still lives with his wife.

● Are you one of the foundry workers in the pic? Tell us your memories by writing to Nostalgia, 6 West gate, Harlow, CM20 1JW or emailing vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk.

25 years ago in the pages of the Star

➔ Nearly 10,000 people pounded Harlow's streets on Sunday in answer to Bob Geldof's rallying call for Sports Aid. Runners of all ages and abilities took part in the six-mile race around Harlow. Their entry fee and money collected along the route already totals £20,000 with sponsorship cash still to be handed in.

➔ Vandals cast a shadow over the Sports Aid event when they let down the refreshment marquee at Burnt Mill, causing it to be torn to pieces by the wind. The marquee, worth more than £1,000, is a write-off according to organisers who had borrowed the equipment from Essex County Council free of charge for the day.

➔ River Way has undergone a double facelift after contractors used the wrong materials, according to the New Towns Commission. Two months into the work, pavements are still dug up and bollards continue to line the edge of the road after the materials used by contractors failed to comply with those specified for the project.

➔ Harlow's first test tube triplets celebrated their first birthday on Wednesday with a party at their Potter Street home. Terry, Andy and Hollie Barrett, who were born eight weeks premature, have now caught up on weight and are proving to be a real handful for parents Janise and Kevin. The trio keep mum especially busy with over 100 nappy changes a week!

tickets to see Dirty Dancing at the drive-in

THERE'S a fantastic selection of movies to be seen this summer at North Weald – and this week the Star has teamed up with organisers Dime Events to give readers the chance to win one of 15 family tickets for up to five adults/children to see Dirty Dancing at the drive-in.

Come along and enjoy a balmy summer evening in the great British outdoors and experience a new way of seeing some fantastic films from the comfort of your own car.

North Weald Airfield, the screen location for the season, has been chosen by DIME (Drive-in Movie Experience) because of the easy access from the M11 and local towns and villages.

Dirty Dancing, directed by Emile Ardolino, stars the late Patrick Swayze and Jennifer Grey.

In the 1960s, Frances 'Baby' Houseman (played by Grey), a sweet daddy's girl, goes with her family to a resort in upstate New York's Catskill Mountains. She has grown up in privileged surroundings and all expect her to go on to college, join the Peace Corps and save the world before marrying a doctor – just like her father.

But unexpectedly Baby becomes infatuated with the camp's dance instructor Johnny (Swayze), whose background is vastly different from her own.

To be in with a chance of winning a family ticket for the performance on Saturday, July 2 answer the simple question in the competition entry form and return it to: Dirty Dancing Competition, Harlow Star, PO Box 268, Cambridge CB24 6HF by Wednesday, June 1, 2011.

Or you can enter via our dedicated competition link at www.harlowstar.co.uk. Be sure to enter 'Dirty Dancing' in the competition name line or your entry will be discounted.

Please include your daytime telephone number. All winners will be invited to pick up their tickets from the box office at North Weald Airfield on the day.

For more information about this and other drive-in movies at North Weald, visit www.driveinmoviesuk.co.uk or call the box office on (01799) 551950.

Is this home for alien life?

ASTRONOMERS have discovered a new planet thought to be capable of supporting life. And it's just 20 light years – or 120 trillion miles – from Earth!

Called Gliese 581d, the water-rich world could have an atmosphere, oceans, clouds and rainfall... and researchers are confident it is warm enough to sustain some form of life. But experts don't believe humans could survive on the rocky planet – which is twice the size of Earth – because oxygen levels are thought to be too low.

Other planets orbiting the Gliese star had previously been identified by astronomers but they were either too near or too far from their sun to sustain life.

But 581d is in the so-called 'Goldilocks zone', an area where water could exist as liquid as it is neither too hot nor too cold.

British scientist Dr Robin Wordsworth led the Paris-based research team that has studied the planet in detail and said while it may harbour alien life, it would be impossible for humans to live there.

Writing in the Astrophysical Letters journal, he said: "The denser air and clouds would keep the surface in a perpetual murky red twilight. Gravity would be double that on Earth."

"The most important implication of these results may be that life-supporting planets don't need to be like Earth."

Ex-pals in stand-off with knife

A HARLOW man accused of threatening to "shank" a former friend must wait until next month to be sentenced after being found guilty of possessing a knife.

Ben Cathorne (23), of Rushes Mead, followed Jed Martin and his partner to their Harlow home after they "had words" in Harlow town centre on May 28 last year, Chelmsford Crown Court was told.

The pair were then said to have become involved in a "Mexican stand-off", with Cathorne brandishing a knife on Mr Martin's front lawn before the pair went their separate ways.

On Monday, Cathorne was found guilty of possessing a bladed article and remanded on bail for pre-sentence reports. He will learn his fate at a sentencing hearing on June 20.

Cathorne, whose parents had recently died, had told the court he was upset after Mr Martin called him an "orphan and a scumbag" but claimed he had never threatened his former pal.

Giving evidence, he said he had gone out to the shops on the day of the incident, and that shortly after returning home, "armed police with tasers" arrived to arrest him.

"I didn't know where [Jed Martin] lived - I twice went to the nearby shops after arriving home from the town centre," he said.

"While shopping there with my girlfriend, I bumped into Jed and he called me a scum-bag and an orphan. My mum and dad had recently passed away. I turned around and told him to 'shut up, f*** off and leave me alone'."

But Mr Martin told the court that Cathorne had gone to his house and stood on his front lawn brandishing the knife.

"I went to the communal door, he was saying 'come on,' I saw he had a knife and said something about shanking me," he said.

"He was standing there gesturing with the knife saying 'come on, I'm gonna shank you.' I thought he'd seen too many films.

"I said 'go on - do it', but he wasn't prepared to step towards me - I knew my partner had called the police and I went inside. He started to walk off."

Mobile classroom rolls in with advice

AN award-winning career training organisation brought its mobile classroom to Harlow as part of National Learners Week.

Adult Community Learning Essex, along with Essex University and Harlow College, spent a day in the town advising more than 120 local residents on career options, learning opportunities, and available training courses.

They also gave demonstrations in arts and crafts, health and beauty and ICT, and offered local people the chance to sign up for the new course directory, which comes out in July.

A spokesman for the group said: "It was great to engage with the people of Harlow and to give them advice on what learning opportunities are available locally."

For more information, or to put your name down for new course directory, call (01279) 427711.

Little and often is the key to home maintenance . . .

LIKE it or loathe it, home maintenance is an essential part of life.

Whether we choose to live in a rambling old rectory or a brand new apartment, property maintenance is always worthwhile and can make sound economic sense.

A well-looked-after building will almost always retain its maximum value and the cost of regular maintenance will more than repay itself, whether or not you're thinking of selling.

A small regular investment in maintenance can limit the need for, or extent of, expensive repairs.

For example, the annual cleaning of gutters and drains will be much cheaper and less inconvenient than having to cope with a serious leak in the roof and the damage caused by a build-up of debris in a blocked gutter.

Annual chimney sweeping, whether you've got old open fireplaces or more modern woodburners, are a necessity. They can help prevent chimney fires - and no-one needs telling how much damage they can do.

There are a number of local professionals who can tackle just about any home maintenance problem. From house decoration to a whole new roof, why not call in the experts - you could save yourself a great deal of money in the long run.

EARLY ARRIVAL: US President Barack Obama and First Lady Michelle greet the ground crew after Air Force One touched down at Stansted Airport.

Obamas stay ahead of ash cloud with early UK flight

FEARS over the Icelandic volcanic ash cloud forced a change of plan for President Obama's arrival at Stansted Airport.

The leader of the free world and his entourage on Air Force One flew in on Monday at around 10pm. Touch-down had been scheduled for Tuesday. Obama and the First Lady, Michelle, were to be met by Prince Charles and the Duchess of Cornwall at the start of a three-day state visit on Tuesday.

Although flights to and from Stansted are currently unaffected by the eruption, the Americans decided to leave Ireland early to avoid being grounded by ash in Dublin.

Iceland has closed its main international airport and cancelled domestic flights after its most active volcano, Grimsvotn, began erupting.

Weight-loss weeks tackle big issues

A FREE, fun and healthy lifestyle programme for Harlow youngsters will open its doors next month.

With one in three children in Harlow above a healthy weight, the MEND (Mind, Exercise, Nutrition...Do it!) scheme aims to help local families become healthier and happier.

Funded by Big Lottery and Mark Hall School, the eight-week programme will teach parents and children aged seven to 13 about nutrition and maintaining a balanced diet.

MEND's programme manager, Claire Spencer, said: "We all lead such hectic lives that eating healthily can sometimes drop off the priority list. At MEND, families learn how they can make small changes to get back on a healthier track."

"Kids love the fun activities and games, while the parents tell us that they enjoy learning about healthy eating and swapping tips. As well as losing weight, kids leave the programme with more energy and a boost in self-esteem."

The scheme will run twice a week at Mark Hall Sports Centre from June 6. Places are limited. For information phone 0800 230 0263 or visit www.mendcentral.org.

Wartime mascot stars at military show

A TEDDY bear that was rescued when his owner's plane was shot down in the Second World War is the mascot of the Hertfordshire Mercury-sponsored Haileybury Military Tournament.

Baxterbear is looking forward to meeting the crowds at the Hertford Heath school on Sunday July 3 and hopes to raise as much as possible for ABF The Soldiers' Charity, which supports former and current service personnel and their families.

His personal assistant Daisy Tate said: "He knows that everyone is not only going to have tremendous fun but also will be able to join him in showing support for our brave servicemen and women."

Baxterbear was found in the jacket of Royal Air Force Pilot Officer Baxter, who was shot down in his aircraft on a mission to Burma, became trapped in trees and passed out.

Five days later, he was discovered by Gurkhas and taken to hospital for treatment. He gradually recovered.

Baxterbear, whose shoulder and ear were damaged, was repaired, but he still has a patch on his shoulder made from family tartan that Pilot Baxter was carrying, as well as a ripped ear, as a reminder of his injuries.

Pilot Baxter died of cancer a few years ago. Following his death, his daughter decided to resurrect his mascot and use Baxterbear to help others.

To order a Baxterbear teddy for £14.99, which includes post and packaging, call 01948 831028, email baxterbear@rightsort.com, visit www.baxterbear.com or write to Baxterbear, c/o Unit 29, Penley Industrial Park, Penley, Wrexham LL13 0LQ.

Men in uniform get 'em moving

By CHRIS MOSS
News Editor
chris.moss@hertssexnews.co.uk

THINGS are hotting up as next month's St Clare Hospice Midnight Walk approaches – and who better to set pulses racing than the firefighters of Old Harlow?

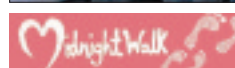

Old Harlow's finest will be there on June 18 to cheer on all the wonderful supporters at the annual Star-backed event, which has so far seen nearly 1,000 people sign up to help paint the town pink.

Jeff Collins is sub officer and watch manager for Old Harlow Fire Station and a former member of staff at St Clare, where he worked as a healthcare assistant for the hospice's inpatient unit.

He and his crew of firefighters will be waving on the lovely ladies at the half-way mark, cheering on participants and reminding them of the difference they are helping to make to the lives of those cared for at the Hastingwood hospice.

Midnight Walk co-organiser, Tracy Stratford, told the Star: "In 2009 the Old Harlow fire crew were there to meet our supporters at the half way point.

"The crowd went mad

ALL FIRED UP: the crew from Old Harlow fire station will be at the half-way point of next month's Midnight Walk to help cheer on the participants. (s) when they saw the men in their uniform standing there with their hose pipes – some ladies even got a bit of a hosing down – and they're lined up and ready again this year!

"It was such a laugh and it is fantastic to see that this year the men in uniform will be back to support us – for those who have yet to sign up, we're hoping this will whet your appetite!"

The closing date for entry to this year's event is just two weeks away (Friday, June 10) and the hospice still needs another 500 people to sign up to help meet its fundraising target.

It costs just £15 per person to register, and all participants will be given an 'I Painted The Town Pink' T-shirt and goody bag.

Tracy added: "The sponsorship money we receive will go towards changing the lives of patients and their families that we care for in the local community.

"The Midnight Walk is our biggest event and is a night to remember – packed with fun, laughter, entertainment and, of course, men in uniform!"

"But for all our male audience don't worry, we are sure that there will be plenty of talent on offer for you too!"

Registration for the event will begin at 8.30pm near ASDA in The Water Gardens.

Following a Zumba dance warm up, the walk will start at 10.30pm and follow a 10k route through the streets and cycle paths of Harlow.

To sign up, visit www.stclarehospice.org.uk, send an email to funds@stclarehospice.org.uk or call the fundraising team on (01279) 773750.

'Distinctive' thugs pull knife on rob victim

POLICE are appealing for witnesses after a man was robbed at knife-point in Harlow.

The incident happened at around 9.10pm on Thursday, May 12 as the victim walked along the Southern Way cycle path opposite the Staple Tye McDonald's.

He was approached from behind by three men, one of whom was armed with a knife and demanded the man hand over his wallet, which contained cards and cash.

The suspects are described as white men aged between 16 and 20. The first was wearing a black bandana with a white skull pattern covering his face, a black hooded top and black jogging bottoms.

The second suspect was wearing a purple NY baseball cap, a dark woolly scarf covering his face, dark hoodie and dark jeans, while the third was wearing dark jeans and a dark hoodie with a scarf covering his face.

Investigating officer PC

Garry Bray said: "The bandana and the purple NY baseball cap are quite distinctive and if you know anyone with these items please contact me."

Anyone with any information should contact PC Bray at Harlow police station on 0300 333 4444 or Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111.

Hop along for tips on bunny welfare

A HARLOW pet store is hopping into action this May Bank Holiday weekend to help teach youngsters how to properly care for their rabbits.

As part of Rabbit Awareness Week, the Pets at Home store, at the St James Centre, off Edinburg Way, will be running free workshops to give children a chance to meet the lovable animals while learning how to keep them healthy and happy.

The sessions will take place at 2.30pm on both Saturday and Sunday and all are welcome to attend.

Three line up for the final rock-off

By CHRIS MOSS

News Editor

chris.moss@hertsexsexnews.co.uk

FIVE months of blood, sweat and beards reaches an explosive climax at The Square on Sunday as the three bands left standing in this year's electrifying Rock Contest prepare for one final battle.

Hirsute hardcore loons F.S.I., lo-fi garage gang Kulaks and big-haired party metal mob The Candy Runts have seen off stiff competition from 15 other local groups to all be in with a shout of being crowned contest kings, scooping $200 of musical equipment and securing a slot on the bill at the Rock At The Priory festival in Ware.

Judge and co-organiser Rob Scatchard told the Star that Sunday's final would be "impossibly close-run".

"Judging by what we've seen of these bands so far, it's too close to call," he said.

"F.S.I have really impressed with their musicianship and stage presence, Kulaks have proved to be hugely popular with audiences and The Candy Runts really get the crowd going and give out some great banter.

F.S.I.

THE CANDY RUNTS

"They've all done incredibly well to make it to this stage – the competition has been fiercer than ever and the judges have regularly been split over who should make it through."

Rob added that the contest had been more popular than ever, boosted in part by a new format which has seen a judging panel give instant feedback after each performance at the Fourth Avenue venue.

"We may have shamelessly pilfered the idea for the judging panel from Strictly Come Dancing and The X Factor, but it really has made a huge difference," he said.

"Both bands and audiences have appreciated the added drama it has brought to the competition – it's been pretty tense some nights!

"Whatever happens on Sunday, it's lining up to be a fantastic final and hopefully we'll manage to pull in a decent-sized audience of Bank Holiday revellers to make it a night to remember."

Doors for Sunday's final open at 8pm, and tickets cost $5 from (01279) 305000 or direct from the venue itself.

Pubs ready to rock for Heroes charity

FESTIVAL fever hits Harlow this Bank Holiday weekend as two pubs host rock 'n' roll fundraisers in aid of Armed Forces charity Help For Heroes.

Featuring some of the very best punk, rock and psychobilly bands on the live circuit as well as a barbecue, raffles and merchandise stalls, the main event will take place on Saturday and Sunday at The Golden Swift in Harberts Road.

And after hearing about the family-friendly weekend from co-organiser Stief Brett, the landlord of The Purple Emperor, Martin Haines, stepped in to offer to stage a second event at his pub in Momples Road.

The line-up will feature the cream of the local music scene including the likes of Kulaks, Wideboy Generation and KiraKira.

"In order that the weekend

FLYING THE FLAG: Golden Swift landlord and landlady Bill Woods and Carol Bush with Stief Brett and festival co-organiser Dave 'Cooter' Samuels can cater for all musical tastes, we offered to run a mini-festival of our own alongside the main event at The Golden Swift," Martin told the Star.

"We urge the people of Harlow to support us in our efforts to raise money and awareness for this great cause."

Stief, lead singer of Harlow-based psychobilly Mob The Noxious Toyz, added: "It's fantastic that The Purple Emperor has come on board this year as well.

"It means that we can expect to raise even more for the brave men and women who put their lives on the line to serve and protect the people of our nation."

Both events are free but revellers will be encouraged to make a generous donation to Help For Heroes.

Diary sequel better but wimp just still too limp

DIARY OF A WIMPY KID 2: RODRICK RULES
certificate U 99m

BLOOD may be thicker than water but it can be spilt just as easily and that's certainly true in Diary Of A Wimpy Kid 2: Rodrick Rules.

Based on Jeff Kinney's best-selling book, David Bowers's sequel continues the trials of wise-cracking tyke Greg Heffley, who first exploded to life in a series of online cartoons.

Exploiting his readers' nostalgia for school days and the innocence of childhood, Kinney sold more than a million copies of his first novel and has so far sold 43 million copies of his five-book series, which unfolds through the eyes of a pre-teen narrator with delusions of greatness.

Released in summer 2010, the film version of Diary Of A Wimpy Kid lost some of the wit and edginess of the books yet still struck a chord with audiences despite an unsympathetic and selfish lead character.

Thankfully, Bowers's film presents us with a far more endearing hero to root for.

Sibling rivalry underpins the first hour before a contrived sequence that forces the brothers to fib for each other and ultimately lays the foundations for a lasting friendship.

Seventh-grader Greg Heffley (Zachary Gordon) thinks all of his problems are solved now he has moved up a year at Westmore Middle School.

Alas, insults in the corridor are nothing compared to the bullying he suffers at home from older brother Rodrick (Devon Bostick).

"Having a brother is one of the most important relationships you will ever have in your life," declares the boys' mother Susan (Rachael Harris), who writes a parenting column for the local newspaper.

To the despair of her husband Frank (Steve Zahn), Susan concocts a hare-brained scheme to force Greg and Rodrick to spend some quality time together.

Meanwhile at school, Greg tries to catch the eye of pretty classmate Holly Hills (Peyton List) while embarking on misadventures with long-suffering pal Rowley (Robert Capron) and classmates Fregley (Grayson Russell) and Chirag Gupta (Karan Brar).

Diary Of A Wimpy Kid 2: Rodrick Rules is more entertaining than its lacklustre predecessor but has the feel of a straight-to-DVD film that has cheekily snuck into the multiplexes.

Gordon and Bostick spend the majority of the film at loggerheads before the inevitable strengthening of fraternal bonds while Capron, Russell and Brar are side-lined to the point they are almost redundant.

However, rising star Gordon weathers the water bombs of outrageous misfortune with good humour.

If the third book in Kinney's series, Diary Of A Wimpy Kid: The Last Straw, ever makes it before the cameras, it will certainly live up to its title.

Pirates of the Caribbean: On Stranger Tides Johnny Depp hoists the mainsail once again, embarking on an action-packed adventure directed by Rob Marshall. This time, Jack Sparrow (Depp) joins forces with Barbossa (Geoffrey Rush) to locate the Fountain Of Youth: one of the world's last undiscovered treasures. The quest becomes infinitely more perilous when Jack is forced aboard the Queen Anne's Revenge, captained by legendary pirate Blackbeard (Ian McShane), who is also seeking the Fountain, aided by his sexy daughter, Angelica (Penelope Cruz). Using all of his guile, Jack must somehow outwit Blackbeard and Angelica and reach the Fountain before his rivals. En route, he crosses paths with King George II (Richard Griffiths) and his father, Captain Teague (Keith Richards).

Thor In the realm of Asgard ruled by Odin (Anthony Hopkins) and his wife Frigga (Rene Russo), Thor (Chris Hemsworth) is an arrogant heir to the throne. He acts first and thinks later, endangering the lives of his trusty companions Volstagg (Ray Stevenson), Sif (Jaimie Alexander), Hogun (Tadanobu Asano) and Fandral (Joshua Dallas) by launching a suicidal attack on the Frost Giants led by the menacing Laufey (Colm Feore). Odin strips his son of his powers and his legendary war hammer, and dispatches him to Earth as punishment.

Fast & Furious 5 Former detective Brian O'Conner (Paul Walker) and lover Mia Toretto (Jordana Brewster) spring her brother Dominic (Vin Diesel) from a prison bus and hide out in Rio with Dom's childhood friend, Vince (Matt Schulze). The fugitives are double-crossed by drug lord Reyes (Joaquim de Almeida) and they vow revenge by plotting to steal $100m of the corrupt businessman's ill-gotten gains.

Rio (3D) Blu (voiced by Jesse Eisenberg) is a domesticated blue macaw who is taken to Rio de Janeiro to mate with the only known female blue macaw, Jewel (Anne Hathaway). But soon after Blu meets Jewel the birds are kidnapped by greedy animal smugglers led by the nefarious Marcel (Carlos Ponce).

certificate 15 101m

TODD Phillips' raucous comedy The Hangover was one of the surprise hits of 2009, following the misadventures of Phil (Bradley Cooper), Stu (Ed Helms) and Alan (Zach Galifianakis), who manage to 'misplace' groom-to-be Doug (Justin Bartha) during his Las Vegas stag do.

Cast and crew return to the scene of their cinematic crimes in the sequel, which involves another set of nuptials and a disastrous foray to foreign climes. Stu has finally found love with the beautiful Lauren (Jamie Chung) and is poised to marry her in a traditional ceremony in Thailand.

Following a boozy stag party in Las Vegas, Stu, Phil, Alan and Doug head east, where they will reunite with Doug's wife Tracy (Sasha Barrese) and her father (Jeffrey Tambor) and various family and friends.

However, the celebrations teeter on the brink of disaster when Phil, Stu and Alan wake from the revelry with no recollection of the night before and discover that they have lost hair and gained a prominent tattoo.

Ken Jeong reprises his role as the mysterious Mr Chow and Mike Tyson cameo once again as himself.

X-MEN: FIRST CLASS
certificate and running time TBC

AFTER the lukewarm reception to spin-off X-Men Origins: Wolverine, director Matthew Vaughn (Kick-Ass) attempts to reboot the blockbuster franchise with this action-packed prequel based on the hugely popular Marvel Comics.

The film opens with Professor Charles Xavier (James McAvoy) and Erik Lehnsherr (Michael Fassbender) as close friends, who are coming to terms with their strange powers and the repercussions once their special abilities are revealed to the world. Joining forces with other mutants including Emma Frost (January Jones), Dr Henry McCoy (Nicholas Hoult) and Raven Darkholme (Jennifer Lawrence), they unite against Sebastian Shaw (Kevin Bacon) and his secret society, which is determined to take over the world by deadly force.

However, a grave rift opens between Charles and Erik about how best to deal with the threat, lighting the fuse on the brutal and bloody war between the X-Men and Magneto's brotherhood.

Your stars with Patrick Arundell to guide you through the week ahead

Aries Mar 21-Apr 20
The pace of life will quicken, as lots of exciting possibilities start unfolding for you. You'll crave extra mental stimulation and this can see you learning new skills, or actively researching your options. Work and money look more promising. However, this can require you to develop new skills or to change your approach. Be open to this. Call for your financial scope in full...

Libra Sept 24-Oct 23
Don't be fearful of thinking imaginatively about any strand of life. Opportunities can abound, if you follow your instincts. Free spirit? A love interest could demand that you show a deeper commitment. Settled? Love can be revived with a change of scene. If a higher education course appeals, it's an excellent time to do background research. Call for your love scope in full...

Taurus Apr 21-May 21
This can be a week of stunning transformation, but the person driving this will be you more than anyone or anything else. Don't be fearful of demonstrating what a one off you are. Be bold in all you do. You can have the Midas touch, so use it. You can also become keener to better manage your resources. Plant seeds for the future. Call your special prediction line for more advice...

Scorpio Oct 24-Nov 22
When you decide you don't like someone, you rarely change your mind. However, now you realize that holding onto grudges like this actually uses up your energy. This dawning realization frees up lots of possibilities, and can create greater harmony all around. If you reach out, you may be pleasantly surprised by the responses you receive. Call for more news and astral advice...

Gemini May 22-Jun 21
The Sun arrives in Gemini, and plans which have been on the back burner can now burst into life. However, do check all financial paperwork, especially linked to policy documents. You may be in for a pleasant surprise, with one better than you thought. This is also a good time to release yourself from any old fears that have held you back. Call for your financial forecast in full...

Cancer Jun 22-Jul 23
A friendship can form which really can stand the test of time. This may even see an existing tie move to a deeper, more sincere level. However, for now, you may want to keep this private between yourselves. Don't feel guilty if you do. Go at your own pace, because if you do, this can be longer lasting. An interest in healing can be revived. Call me for your love scope in full...

Leo Jul 24-Aug 23
Your considerable charm can see you impress a potential employer or an existing one. Connections for business can also come through friendships. Attending a function can win you a deal, or meet someone who you pal up with. Socially, things can start to sparkle. The last ten days of the month can see you joining in with greater relish. Call now for your in-depth forecast...

Aquarius Jan 21-Feb 19
You can become more at ease with your emotional needs and this can trigger some big inner changes. This may even see you more comfortable with opening up about your deeper needs. A home move or improvement, can also aid your sense of security. If you reshape your garden, or grow your own vegetables, this too can be satisfying. Call your prediction line for more news...

Virgo Aug 24-Sept 23
The chance to travel presents itself, but this may be linked with a job as much as your leisure time. If you are finding it hard to find a role close to home, distance will seem less of a hurdle. Jobs in the recreation or holiday industries can also appeal to you. Any interest you have in the arts, history or philosophy, can occupy your spare time. Call for more news and astral advice...

Pisces Feb 20-Mar 20
New friendships blossom and these can have a major and positive influence on you. What you share and what you learn, can help to define your future more clearly. Anything linked with publishing, writing, newspapers and magazines can be lucky. Getting together with close relatives or people around you can be fun and rewarding. Call me now for more news and astral advice...

Tracey Waples
Property Editor

IF you're currently trying to sell your property then may I suggest you look away now as this isn't going to make pleasant reading.

Never in British property history has it been more difficult to sell your property at the price you're marketing it for.

A bunch of cheery souls at the National Institute of Economic and Social Research have published their latest research and declared that property values will fall by four-and-a-half per cent this year and continue falling over the next five years, making it a whopping 10.5 per cent in real terms. This will possibly be the longest ever period of falling house prices seen in the UK.

The Land Registry reported the biggest monthly drop in house prices in more than two years in March, and the NIESR added that inflationary pressures in the coming years would erode any rise in nominal house prices.

To make matters worse, this prediction came as ratings agency Standard & Poor also forecast a five per cent fall in house prices during 2011 due to George Osborne's austerity budget deterring prospective buyers from taking the plunge.

A NIESR spokesman said: "House prices have been overvalued for much of the past decade, but with current low borrowing costs they look about right."

"However, borrowing costs are likely to rise over the next five years as policy rates set by the Bank of England move from crisis levels near zero to normal levels of around five per cent. These increases are likely to induce real house prices to fall by around two per cent a year for the next five years."

Sellers, I told you it wasn't pleasant but there will be plenty of people who will delight in the fact that house prices may finally become a little more realistic.

Volvo on an economy drive

By Matt Joy

IF you've managed to get this far in your motoring life without sparing a thought for fuel bills or the environment then I'm secretly impressed, because there's nothing like the tide of public opinion to raise something to the top of the agenda.

It wasn't that long ago that hardly anyone knew about carbon dioxide emissions, but these days it's more socially acceptable to banter about g/km than bhp.

Volvo aren't ashamed to admit they've been in the business of making family cars for decades now. They know what works and what doesn't.

Their long-deserved reputation for safety is still an ever-present too, yet perhaps of greater interest now is an emphasis on creating cars that are good to look at and very economical. An impossible combination maybe?

There's a new V60 DRIVE that represents a serious attempt to fill all of those roles.

You should be familiar with the regular V60 by now: a slick, modern Volvo right down to its core and yet still able to do all the boring stuff like they always have. But the DRIVE model brings with it the ability to achieve some remarkably efficient figures. Try 62.8mpg

FACTfile

Volvo V60 DRIVE SE

£26,770

Engine: 1.6-litre diesel unit producing 113bhp
Transmission: Six-speed manual driving front wheels
Performance: Top speed 118mph / 0-62mph in 11.3 secs
Economy: 62.8mpg
CO<sub>2</sub> Rating: 119g/km and 119g/km for the V60, a fraction better for the S60 saloon.

What's more, rather than the pie-in-the-sky figures that many seem to think the official statistics are, a little application makes them achievable. To prove it, Volvo set us the task of driving a new V60 DRIVE from their UK headquarters in Marlow to Mayrhofen in Austria on a single tank of fuel.

My geography is poor at the best of times but I know that 840 miles without refuelling is no mean feat. It will be worth the effort though as every spring Volvo is the key sponsor of the Snowbombing Festival which combines winter sports with some top-drawer music acts. It seems a long way away at this point, however.

Despite not even being run in yet, the 1.6-litre diesel unit gives the kind of low-speed pull that we've come to expect thanks to the 199lb.ft of torque available from just 1,750rpm. There's a six-speed manual gearbox too, rather than the five speeds that many eco-specials are lumbered with.

The V60 rattles off the 100 miles to Folkestone and the Channel Tunnel crossing with little effort and once on the French side sticking to a steady 75mph is much easier.

The cabin does a fine job of looking after its occupants, with seats that are very supportive and comfortable. There's also a healthy complement of equipment as this is no stripped-out economy model.

Better still, if you go for the R-Design model innocent passers-by would mistake it for the hot model in the range. R-Design gets you very attractive and large alloy wheels, a tasteful bodykit for sportiness but not showiness and sharper suspension. Much as we'd like the more handsome version here, we're thankful for the softest suspension over broken French roads.

By the end of day one we were comfortably in excess of 60mpg, with 420 miles still to go and more than half a tank do it with. By the end of day one we were comfortably in excess of 60mpg, with 420 miles still to go and more than half a tank do it with.

Day two meant getting on with it. Not only did we have all those miles to cover but the party at the end of it. The temptation of derestricted autobahn through Germany was largely resisted, although we did up the pace a little as even in a comfortable and attractive cabin, the 700th motorway mile was beginning to grate.

We also began to make even more use of the decent cabin space. As with any road trip, the amount of accumulated detritus increases but the V60 swallowed it all quite happily. The increased sense of urgency had also chipped away at our average economy and so as we approached Mayrhofen we had to fully exploit the roadholding in order to avoid braking unless absolutely necessary.

Thankfully the V60 was faithful, benign and grippy, despite low rolling resistance tyres.

Remarkably, and despite the seemingly-dubious end to the story, the V60 indicated zero fuel in the tank and zero range with 15 miles still go.

Holding our breath and everything else (particularly over the level crossing) it trundled happily up to the hotel without a single cough or splutter – 830 miles down, 56.4mpg on the trip computer. It might not be the kind of thing that a family will regularly undertake but the point was proven emphatically. The V60 DRIVE demands very little in the way of compromise from its occupants, yet delivers pretty impressive fuel efficiency with a little in reserve.

And that proves you don't have to sell your soul to save the planet

Scrap

End of the road
for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle. That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD). A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring caught by Ramsay for 14 when the score was 47.

However, Harlow's seamers struggled to control the scoring and the game was finely balanced when Southendians reached 119-3.

The introduction of spin swung the game back in Harlow's favour with Khawaja bowling the dangerous Chris Bunce for 51 and trapping Aaron Lucas for 39, leaving the visitors on 139-5.

Leg spinner Matt Nobes ended any hope of a visitors' victory as he took three wickets to leave Old Southendian reeling at 165-8.

in 39.49s. Watts' team finished third (41.12s).

"It was a great experience. It's great to run against the seniors," he added.

The overall match was won by England with 185 points from Loughborough in second (143.5) and GB & NI Juniors in third (129).

Watts will now train hard for the next three weeks with his Woodford Green with Essex Ladies coach Gladys Bird before the Bedford International event on June 12 when he will race Talbot again.

"This has given me a hell of a lot of confidence. It has shown what I really can do – and in three weeks' time I will be racing against the big boys again!" he beamed.

Pope takes bronze for Great Britain

HARLOW Judo Club member Adam Pope returned with a bronze medal when representing Great Britain.

Pope was in the GB team for the tournament in Holland, competing in the U-60kgs weight.

Meanwhile, his Harlow club mates returned with an impressive haul of medals from the Ipswich Green Belt & Below Championships.

Gold medals were won by Rebecca Howlett (U-28kgs), Chloe Nunn (U-40kgs), Harry Forbes (over-60kgs) and Passmores School student Brooke Cranham

MEDAL TRIUMPH: Jubilant members of Harlow Judo Club (s)

(over-70kgs).

Gaining silver medals were Joe Arnold (over-60kgs), Thomas Rees (U-38kgs), Freddy White (U-42kgs), Elle Ward (U-32kgs) and Alex Hemmings (U-60kgs).

A bronze medal was also achieved by Alex Vear (U-42kgs).

Edward Vear (U-34kgs) and Adam Pope (U-60kgs) fought well but were unable to place.

The club's stand-out performances came from

Thomas Rees fighting in a very large group. He won four of his five fights and was in great form.

Chloe Nunn dispatched three of her opponents in less than 10 seconds.

Chloe went on to beat the national champion in her final which went to golden score extra-time.

At another competition the previous weekend, there was more success for Harlow players.

A silver medal was picked up by Chloe (U-40kgs), while a bronze was secured by Thomas (U-38kgs) at the Peterborough Age Banded Championships.

The club trains at Stewards School (Mondays) and Katherines Common Room (Thursdays).

Super Saturn!

STRONG character was again shown by Harlow team Saturn U-16 as they completed a cup double when they won the Mid Herts Rural League ORC Cup.

Saturn were trailing 1-0 against fellow Harlow side Prydn Youth in Sunday's final before recovering to win 2-1 through a George Neal equaliser and Jack Turvey's winner.

Previously, Saturn had come from behind to beat Harlow Town 3-2 after extra time to win the Mid-Herts Rural League Divisional Shield.

Josh Mansfield (2) and Jack Wagstaff were on target for Saturn.

It was Saturn's first season in the League. They were runners-up in their division and gained promotion.

Meanwhile, Harlow team Mark Hall U-14 beat John Warner Rovers 7-3 after extra time in the U-14 Mid Herts League Cup final.

Mark Hall came from behind to pull it back to 3-3 by the end of normal time before they then played their best football, scoring four goals in extra-time.

Dexter Blake scored a superb hat-trick for Hall, whose other scorers were from captain Craig Reeves, Jilani Hines Rogers, Joe Hayles and goalkeeper Lewis Chalk!

Hall had beaten Skyfield Eagles 3-1, Hoddesdon Town Blacks 3-2 and the unbeaten divisional winners Enfield Colts 4-2 to reach the final.

Hall finished third in division two, losing only three games and scoring more than 100 goals.

New Hall Rangers Blues U-10 enjoyed a fantastic season.

They won the East Herts & West Essex Silver U-10 division, losing only one game all season. They also won the Secretary's Cup, beating Summers Vipers 3-0 in the final.

Rangers scored 113 goals in both competitions, conceding only 13.

Rangers were part of last season's double winning New Hall Rangers U-9 team which was split into two teams for this season.

More bad luck for Bowen

HARLOW speedway ace Luke Bowen was in the wars again as he crashed out of Rye House Rockets' Premier League fixture against Somerset Rebels on Saturday.

The Harlow Flyer – who only recently returned from the sidelines – lifted coming out of the second bend of Heat 6, and although he bailed off his machine just before it disappeared into the safety fence, he landed heavily on his left elbow.

With the blow causing difficulties of grip in his hand, he was withdrawn from the remainder of the meeting as a precautionary measure.

Rockets promoter Len Silver said: "Luke's fine, it was just a case of some heavy bruising. He'll be back for Monday's match at home to Workington Comets (2pm start)."

Steve Boxall made a triumphant home return for the Rockets, helping his side to an emphatic 54-39 victory against the league leaders.

He left the Rebels reeling with three wins in a row before dropping his only point of the night to Ty Proctor in Heat 13.

Boxall's exhilarating performance was matched by newly-qualified British finalist Jordan Frampton, who was beaten only in the same race – although the night belonged to Rockets skipper Chris Neath, who went through the card for a superb maximum.

Australian Tyson Lower returned to his best form with a paid 14 haul.

Rye House scorers: Jordan Frampton 14 (from five rides); Luke Bowen 0 (2); Ritchie Hawkins 2+1 (3); Chris Neath 14+1 (5); Steve Boxall 10+1 (4); Ben Morley 2 (4); Tyson Nelson 12+2 (7).

League joy for athletes

Perry Rowan (14), a Burnt Mill School student, triumphed in the U-15 boys 1,500m in 4:43.

HARLOW Taekwondo player Mick Sullivan passed his 3rd degree black belt at the TAGB (Taekwondo Association of Great Britain) biannual grading at the Bristol Academy in Bristol. Mick is an instructor at the taekwondo club which trains at Passmores School on Mondays and Wednesdays (7.30pm-8.30pm).

The grading included floor work, patterns, set sparring, free sparring, breaking and Korean history/terminology.

Mick passed this grading with flying colours and received his certificates from fellow Harlow instructor Colin Mowatt.

A few weeks earlier all 21 Harlow taekwondo members successfully passed coloured belt gradings. Eighteen of the 21 received A passes.

"This was a fantastic achievement," beamed Mowatt.

FIVE Harlow Penguins returned as county champions from the Essex Masters Championships.

Their success was among a series of outstanding performances from the leisurezone-based club.

Paula Reynolds won three titles: 100m backstroke (1 min 16.58 secs), 50m backstroke (35.61s) and 100m individual medley (1:17.37).

Alan Canham won the 50m butterfly title (42.00) and Sarah Stringer won the 100m freestyle race (1:16.28).

Sarah also took three silver medals: in the 200m freestyle (2:46.16), 100m individual medley (1:24.73) and 50m freestyle (32.06s).

Nick Johnson gained silver medals in the 50m butterfly (32.34s) and 100m freestyle (1:08.59) and Martin Stringer claimed silver in the 50m butterfly (33.48s) and bronze in the 50m backstroke (40.04s).

The team performed well in several mixed relay teams.

Most notable was the 200+ years medley team of Paula Reynolds (backstroke), Alan Canham (breaststroke), Martin Stringer (butterfly) and Sarah Stringer (freestyle) who took silver, just missing out on winning to a strong Romford team.

New venue proves patchy

TWENTY-one members of Stort Valley Angling Society travelled to a new venue for the Harlow club; Cuton Lakes near Chelmsford.

Hawks' play-off semi heartbreak

LOW AND BEHOLD: Hawks star Simon Atkinson keeps the ball from a Herts Warriors player (Pic: Steve Weemes HSP0737613)

HARLOW Hawks player-coach Shab Niaz has urged his team to put their frustrating campaign behind them.

Hawks return for pre-season training in mid-August after their 2010-11 Herts League division one campaign was rounded off with a semi-final play-off home defeat against Herts Warriors last Wednesday.

Niaz said: "It has been a frustrating season for us. We must put it behind us and re-focus when pre-season training starts again in August."

The play-off semi-final started off at a frantic pace as Warriors did not allow Hawks to settle on the ball and get their offence set.

Nick Moss provided the first seven points for the Hawks, but their perimeter defence allowed the Warriors to penetrate too easily and this resulted in lay-up scores.

Hawks finished the quarter strongly with a pair of three pointers from the Niaz brothers (Shab and Zaf), and a fast break lay-up from Lee Jones.

Hawks led 23-20 going into the second quarter.

Both teams then traded points, but poor free-throw shooting from the home side enabled the Warriors to build up a lead.

Shab Niaz continued to have

Harlow Hawks 70, Herts Warriors 97

Herts Basketball League, division one play-off semi-final the scoring touch, but it was not enough to stop the visitors heading into the half-time break 47-39 up.

In the third quarter, both teams enjoyed scoring runs before the Warriors went on an 11-0 run, consigning the Hawks to a 22-point deficit (78-56).

Harlow gave everything in the final 10 minutes, but Warriors slowed the game to waste time.

This resulted in tired Hawks players scrambling around defending rather than attacking.

It led to poor decisions and turnovers for the home side as the offensive end stuttered.

Warriors scored eight unanswered points as the Hawks lost by a considerable 27-points margin.

Niaz added: "At times we handled their pressure on the ball well, but in the second half a higher number of turnovers than normal led to them getting a lot of easy points.

"In addition to that they shot the ball really well in the second half. Credit goes to our guys in continuing to play hard until the end."

HARLOW HAWKS: S. Niaz (20 pts), Moss (15), Z. Niaz (9), Allan (8), L. Atkinson (8), Jones (4), Burgess (3), Spasheff (2), S. Atkinson (1).

Penguins head coach pulls the Strings

A TEAM of young swimmers represented Harlow Penguins in the second round of the National Junior Swimming League under new head coach Martin Stringer.

He swam for the club as a youngster and was instrumental in the success of the masters squad at the Essex County Championships (see report top right).

Due to a lack of swimmers a number of Penguins swam in several races.

Celeste Andrews (10) swam in 10 races, not only in her own 10 year age category, but in the 11 year and 12 year age categories. She won the 10 years 50m backstroke (45.13s), giving the team maximum points.

Saul Lintonbon-Baker (11) and Erin Fitzpatrick (11) both swam eight races each in both the 11 year and 12 year age categories and produced some excellent personal bests.

The best individual performances came from Bradley Veitch in the 12 years 50m freestyle which he won in 31.31s (an Essex qualifying time).

Kate Henshall (9) came 2nd in the 9 years 25m freestyle (18.20s) and 3rd in the 9 years 25m butterfly (21.89s).

Ellie Hind (9) came 2nd in the 25m breaststroke (26.85s) and 3rd in the 25m backstroke (23.09s).

Chloe Mitchell came 2nd in the 12 years 50m butterfly, while Tomas Clark came 2nd in the 10 years 50m breaststroke (54.09s). Owen Stringer came 3rd in the 9 years 25m freestyle (20.86s).

The 9 year girls relay team (Ella Young, Ellie Hind, Tegan Lintonbon-Baker and Kate Henshall) came 2nd in the freestyle relay and 3rd in the medley relay.

The 10 year girls medley team (Ella Young, Phoebe Jewell, Celeste Andrew and Olivya Holleman) were 2nd and the 10 year boys medley team (Alex Yates, Tomas Clark, Oliver Stacey and Owen Stringer) came 3rd.

New members of the team - Ella Young (10), Ben Homewood (9), Samuel Young (9) and Callum Free (11), all put in excellent performances, as did Samantha Sayers (11), Toby Stacey (12) and Rylan Elven (11).

The team were placed 3rd after 20 races, but at the end of the gala finished 5th.

New head coach Martin Stringer said: "There were some amazing results and times and the swimmers showed great team spirit."

The final round of the National Junior Swimming League is on Sunday June 26.

Case for defence!

Boss wants no-nonsense centre-half

THE first team places of Hawks central defenders Leo Roget, Lee Gledhill and Laurie Stewart could be under threat next term.

Harlow Town boss Danny Chapman is targeting a central defender, but revealed he has been unable to sign Grays Athletic centre-half Bradley Thomas.

Chapman said they were unable to agree terms, but indicated he is looking for a no-nonsense central defender.

"I am looking for a defender or someone that can go and defend. If he can play a bit, that is a bonus," said Chapman.

Chapman has also spoken to two keepers - Anthony Tucker who is at Maldon & Tiptree and Elliott Justham from Redbridge.

The Hawks boss said: "I have known Anthony for a while and he was a schoolboy at Leyton Orient. Steve Walduck [Harlow's keeper coach] worked with him at Boreham Wood and said he was a good keeper.

"Elliott played very well against us and has a presence about him."

He added: "We have James Hasell, but he will be missing for two weeks in September and I need to plan ahead. I hope to get something sorted out in the next week."

Chapman also added that keepers Michael Dumoulin and Jayden Purdue are set to be involved in pre-season.

The proposed list of the clubs playing in Ryman League division one north next season have been released.

Chapman anticipates that Brentwood Town and Needham Market will be challenging for promotion again.

Like Harlow, they both qualified for the play-offs last term but missed out on promotion.

Ex-Manchester City striker Carl Griffiths played briefly with Chapman at Harlow and now manages Aveley who have been relegated from the Ryman premier division.

Chapman said: "Carl's record speaks for itself and he knows football inside out. They will be a decent side."

Grays Athletic, managed by ex-Hammers defender Julian Dicks, did not fare well last season and Chapman said: "They under-achieved last season and will want to put that right."

Chatham Town have switched from Ryman division one south.

Other new sides in the division are Leiston and Enfield 1893, who have been promoted from the premier division of the Ridgeons League and the Essex Senior League respectively.

Watts the story? GB glory

SPRINTER Sam Watts produced two excellent performances at the Loughborough International as his reputation continues to blossom in the world of athletics.

The 19-year-old Harlow-born athlete defeated highly-rated Great Britain sprinter Richard Strachan to secure the runner-up spot in the 200m in the first major fixture of the 2011 McCain Challenge Series.

Strachan is coached by GB Olympic Gold Medal winner Linford Christie.

Watts' time of 20.8 seconds smashed the European Junior Championships' qualifying time of 21.25s.

However, because of the almost gale-force conditions, the race time will not count towards qualifying for the Euro Champs in Estonia in July.

But it seems only a matter of time before Watts breaks through this barrier.

He has already qualified for the 100m at Tallinn, Estonia, this summer.

On Saturday, the former Leventhorpe School student was just fractions of a second behind the winner, English senior athlete and Birchfield Harriers star Danny Talbot (20.6s).

Championships 'A' standard.

But were it not for a false start by a rival, Watts would certainly have beaten Talbot.

"I had an amazing start [first time]. I would have had him [Talbot] but they called us back. The second start was not so good," said a frustrated Watts.

Athletes were angered by the decision to deem their times 'illegal'.

"The seniors were going crazy. They [the officials] messed it up. It was legal - and they messed up the electronic timing," Watts fumed. "It was ridiculous. There was no way it was an illegal wind."

If the timer had not been 'faulty', his time could have been closer to 20.7s, he said.

Watts represented the Great Britain & Northern Ireland junior side at this meeting. He lined up against a GB senior team, seniors from England, Scotland and Wales, plus a Loughborough team.

Watts ran the third leg against GB star Craig Pickering in the 4x100m. The formidable GB seniors team of Mark Lewis-Francis, Marlon Devonish, Pickering and Christian Malcolm won

Harlow sit pretty at top after third win

THE early season pace continues to be set by Harlow, who made it three wins from three matches with a solid home triumph over Old Southendian & Southchurch.

Harlow skipper Luke Heskett won the toss on Saturday and chose to bat on an excellent Marigolds wicket.

After losing opener Rehman Ahmed (4) when the score was 17, Luke Monger (39) and Ahmed Khawaja (34) shared a 67-run partnership before both fell to good balls from spinner Mike Ridley.

This platform was built on as Nino Calvino (41) and Conor Ramsay (32) played important innings.

The aggressive Nicky Baxter

Harlow closed with 261-8 from their 50 overs.

In reply, Southendian started disastrously, slipping to 7-2 with Andrew McGarry and Monger taking a wicket apiece.

This included visitors' skipper Rob Johnston for 1.
